

AN INTRODUCTION TO YAMAHA MUSIC LONDON EDUCATION SERVICES

Yamaha Music London is proud to share their passion for music and performance with the acclaimed musical An American in Paris. Located in the heart of London's West End, the performance capital of the world, Yamaha Music London is the European flagship store for Yamaha Music.

Yamaha is a leader in music education providing music tuition to hundreds of thousands of students across the world whilst supporting educators and institutions to pursue cultural enrichment through musical excellence in the arts.

Through our Education services at Yamaha Music London we encourage future generations of composers, songwriters and musicians to discover the joy of music and to express themselves through music.

Yamaha Music London is the only direct resource enabling education establishments to access the entire Yamaha range

Yamaha is the world's largest manufacturer of musical instruments and educational establishments can access the full range of Yamaha musical instruments and equipment from plectra to grand pianos at Yamaha Music London. Our keyboards, Clavinova and Silent pianos are used in Conservatoires and schools around the world. Our orchestral instruments and guitars are chosen by the most discerning student and professional players. Our percussion, music production and amplification ranges are the industry standard in studios including London's famous Abbey Road and our concert grand pianos are the centre-piece in many of the world's most prestigious concert venues.

Yamaha is also a leading innovator in musical instruments and technology. Our range of Silent instruments, along with AvantGrand and TransAcoustic pianos are examples of just how far we are able to push boundaries and make new and exciting tools with which to create music.

Yamaha Music London has an in-store stock of over 18,000 sheet music titles and access to a library of over 150,000 more.
